CHICAGO – Susan E. Brackett, DDS, MS, FACP, was honored with the Distinguished Service Award from the American College of Prosthodontists (ACP). This award recognizes outstanding service to the specialty of prosthodontics and highlights the characteristics of a true humanitarian.

“I am grateful for the education I received in my prosthodontics program,” said Dr. Brackett. “It gave me the chance to pursue a rewarding and fulfilling career, so it seemed only natural to ‘give back’ to a profession that has treated me so well. I am honored to receive an award based on my service and support of our specialty.”

Dr. Brackett is a Fellow of the American College of Prosthodontists and a Diplomate of the American Board of Prosthodontics.

She has served in many leadership roles within the ACP, including as a Section President, Director of the Public Relations and Communications Division, Secretary, and ultimately serving as ACP President in 2016 as the third female president in the college’s history. Dr. Brackett also served on the ACP Education Foundation Board for nine years and received the ACPEF Founders Society Award in 2013.
